Charley Chase

Charley starred in nearly 200 shorts and devoted his life to comedy, both as actor and writer-director. Many of his films and individual sequences are brilliantly funny and rate alongside the best work Keaton or Chaplin ever did. Ideal programme supports or hilarious on their own, choose from these titles:—

Cracked Ice Man

Charley Chase as a Professor in an hilarious first day at teaching.

Another Wild Idea

Charley becomes the guinea pig for the strangest invention ever — without him ever knowing it.

Fallen Arches

Charley's boss sends him to San Francisco — and Charley decides to walk it, all the way.

All B/W 1 x 120m

Gil Lamb

Gil, usually referred to as Slim, plays a simple character who just seems to run into trouble at every turn. His movies made the most of his physical dexterity as well as his marvellous rubber face. "Baby Makes Two" has been singled out as probably the best in the series, but we think you will find all our titles offer plenty of laughs.

Ghost Busters

Gil goes out to a haunted house to find out what's really going on — dressed as a woman!

Bashful Romeo

Gil gets mixed up in a case of mistaken identity, as the other man, with a jealous husband.

Grunt and Groan

Wrestling sets the scene as Gil gets involved in the square jungle, and finds himself flat on the canvas.

Baby Makes Two

Gil does a little baby snatching — entirely on the level — but the baby is twenty storeys up and the only way is along the window ledge.

All B/W 1 x 120m

Leon Errol

Leon Errol was one of that rare breed, the funnyman; he did not need script or plot, he was funny in himself. He played the hen-pecked husband given to imbibing, who was always having girl trouble. We are sure you will find Leon's antics confusing and highly amusing.

Shocking Affair

Leon, the madcap inventor, sparks many a laugh when a bank robber moves in and has a shock or two.

Spooky Wooky

Leon moves into a new house in the country — a house that has everything including ghosts.

Wedtime Stories

Double trouble as both he and his son take rooms at the same hotel, each on his honeymoon.

China Town Chump

Leon gets mixed up with crooks in oriental fashion.

Punchy Pancho

Over the border to Mexico where once again Leon gets himself into big trouble, impersonating a bandit, who turns up in person!

Edgar Kennedy

One of the most durable comedy series, it lasted 17 years. The secret of its success being due to the very real situations in which Edgar becomes embroiled — on vacation, home baking, plumbing etc. You are bound to find a bundle of laughs in our selection.

I'll Fix It

Edgar installs a new water boiler in his usual messy manner.

Cooks and Crooks

Detective Kennedy infiltrates a crooks den — with hilarious results.

Apple in His Eye

Baking his own apple pies turns out to be more than Edgar had bargained for.....

Dummy Ache

His wife kills her lover — or so Edgar thinks — you will ache laughing as Edgar covers up her 'crime'!

Mad About Moonshine

Edgar moves into the country and lands himself in the middle of a Hill Billy feude.

Bric-A-Brac

Edgar does it himself and builds his own dream home — mind you he does come up against a few snags.

Wrong Direction

Edgar tries to direct a movie — but shouldn't the camera be pointing towards the action?
